HEAD COACHES

WADE PHILLIPS (61-42, 7TH YEAR, 13-3 - DAL.)

Wade Phillips was named the seventh head coach in Dallas Cowboys history on Feb. 8, 2007. Phillips, now in his 32nd year as an NFL coach, has guided his teams to four playoff appearances with only one non-winning season. His first season in Dallas was no exception as the Cowboys tied the franchise record with 13 wins. En route to a 13-3 record, Dallas captured the 20th division title in franchise history. Under Phillips' guidance, the Cowboys sent a league record 13 players to the Pro Bowl. Phillips had head coaching stops with the Denver Broncos and Buffalo Bills. He also served as an interim head coach in New Orleans in 1985 (1-3 record) and Atlanta in 2003 (2-1). The last seven times Phillips has taken over as a head coach or defensive coordinator, his new team has reached the playoffs in his first season. Over the last 19 years as a head coach or coordinator, he has been a part of only four teams with non-winning records. During that span, his defenses have ranked in the NFL's top-10 nine times. He served as the defensive coordinator for the San Diego Chargers for three seasons before landing in Dallas. He spent two years (2002-03) as the defensive coordinator in Atlanta. From 1998-2000 he was Buffalo's head coach and was its defensive coordinator (1995-97) after a two-year stint as Denver's head coach (1993-94). He served as the Broncos defensive coordinator for four seasons (1989-92). He was the Philadelphia Eagles defensive coordinator and linebackers coach (1986-88) after serving as the Saints defensive coordinator (1981-85). He made his coaching debut in 1976 under his father, Bum, with the Houston Oilers (linebackers) then coached the defensive line from 1977-1980.

ROMEO CRENNEL (20-28, 4th Year)

Romeo Crennel took the reigns of the Cleveland Browns on Feb. 8, 2005 to become the 11th head coach in team history. After opening his head coaching career with a 6-10 record in 2005 and a 4-12 record in 2006, Crennel's Browns team finished 2007 with a 10-6 record, including a franchise-best seven consecutive home wins. At the end of the season, six Browns were selected to the Pro Bowl. Crennel has 38 years of coaching experience, including 27 years in the NFL. He has appeared in six Super Bowls (XXI and XXV - N.Y. Giants and XXXI, XXXVI, XXXVIII, XXXIX - New England) with five wins. He helped guide the New England Patriots to Super Bowl victories in 2001, 2003 and 2004 as the defensive coordinator (2001 and 2004) and the defensive coordinator/defensive line coach (2002-03). He previously coached in Cleveland (2000) as the club's defensive coordinator/defensive line coach. He also had stops with the N.Y. Jets (1997-99 - defensive line), New England Patriots (1993-96 - defensive line) and the N.Y. Giants (1981-82 - special teams/defensive assistant, 1983-89 - special teams and 1990-92 defensive line). He coached collegiately at Georgia Tech (1980), Mississippi (1978-79), Texas Tech (1975-77) and his alma mater, Western Kentucky (1970-74). He was a four-year starting defensive lineman at Western Kentucky, earning team MVP honors as a senior. Crennel earned his bachelor's degree in physical education and a master's while serving as a graduate assistant at Western Kentucky (1970).

SEASON OPENERS

Top-Five Opening Day Winning Percentages

Team	Record	%
Jacksonville	9-4-0	.692
Dallas	32-15-1	.681
Denver	30-17-1	.638
Chicago	49-34-5	.590
N.Y. Giants	46-32-5	.590

After claiming opening-day wins in two of the last three seasons, including last year's 45-35 home win over the N.Y. Giants, the Dallas Cowboys have an opportunity to win back-to-back season openers for the first time since 1998 and 1999.

Dallas also enters the 2008 season with the league's second-best opening-day winning percentage (.681), second only to the Jacksonville Jaguars (.692).

Dallas' 32 opening-day wins are good for 10th in NFL annals.

Dallas won 17 consecutive season-opening games from 1965-1981. That streak is the longest opening day win streak in the history of the NFL. The next longest streaks are Miami (11, 1992-02), Detroit (10, 1930-39) Chicago (9, 1984-92) and the Baltimore Colts (8, 1955-62).

The Cowboys have opened a season against the Cleveland Browns two times and won each of those games. The last time Dallas opened a season against the Browns was Sept. 1, 1991 on a Monday night.

Dallas lost its first-ever season opener 28-35 against the Pittsburgh Steelers on Sept. 24, 1960. They came back the next season to beat Pittsburgh 27-24 on Sept. 17, 1961 to claim their first-ever season-opening win.

Longest Opening Day Win Streaks

Team	Games	Years
Dallas	17	1965-81
Miami	11	1992-02
Detroit	10	1930-39
Chicago	9	1984-92
Baltimore Colts	8	1955-62

OPENING ON THE ROAD

As one of the NFL's best teams on opening day, it is no surprise that the Cowboys have enjoyed success opening their season on the road. In 25 all-time season openers on the road, Dallas has posted a 17-8 record.

The franchise won its first 11 road season openers (1967-84) before losing three straight from 1987-89. Following that short losing streak, Dallas won five of its next seven season openers on the road.

Dallas has opened at Washington (five times) more often than any other place, followed by Pittsburgh (three), Chicago (two), Cleveland (two - including Dallas' first season opener on the road) and the St. Louis Cardinals (two).

This year's season opener at Cleveland marks the third time the Cowboys have opened the season at Cleveland - both Dallas wins.

Cowboys Top Opening Day Road Opponents

Team	Games	Record
Washington	5	4-1
Pittsburgh	3	2-1
Chicago	2	1-1
Cleveland	2	2-0
St. Louis Cards	2	1-1

SOLD OUT STADIUMS

The Cowboys have played in front of sold out stadiums in 290 of their last 292 games (including playoffs) and in 92 consecutive games. They have played in front of sold out crowds in 145 consecutive games at Texas Stadium (including playoffs) - dating back to Dec. 16, 1990 against Phoenix, their last home non-sellout.

On the road, Dallas has played in front of sold out crowds in 46 straight games (including playoffs), dating back to its last road non-sellout - at Arizona (10/20/02).

DALLAS vs. AFC

This week's game against the Cleveland Browns marks the Cowboys first of four interconference games of the season. It also marks the fourth time in the last seven seasons that Dallas has opened the season against an AFC foe.

Since 1970, the Cowboys boast the NFC's highest winning percentage (.574) when facing an AFC team and have the second-most wins (78) behind San Francisco's 79.

Dallas won six of their last eight games against AFC teams.

NFC vs. AFC.
Team	Record	Pct.
Dallas	78-58-0	.574
San Francisco	79-64-0	.552
Philadelphia	74-62-1	.544

* Eastern Conference Championship Game & NFC Championship Game

INSIDE THE SERIES HISTORY

The rivalry between the Dallas Cowboys and the Cleveland Browns has been around since the Cowboys entrance in the league in 1960. The two teams were in the same conference from 1961-1969. In all, the club's have faced each other 28 times.

In the 28 games of the series there has been:

- * Two season-opening games - both in Cleveland and both Dallas wins.
- * Three NFL Championship Games (1967 - win by Dallas and 1968 and 1969 - both Cleveland wins).
- * 580 points scored by Dallas, 661 allowed.
- * A seven-game Cleveland win streak from 1963-1966.
- * A four-game Dallas win streak from 1966-1968.
- * A 3-10 record for Dallas when playing in Cleveland.
- * 18 games decided by double digits.
- * Nine games decided by 21-or-more points.
- * Eight games decided by a touchdown-or-less.
- * A 41-point loss by Dallas, tying the second-largest margin of defeat in club history.
- * A 38-point win by Dallas in the 1967 NFL Championship game, tying the largest margin of victory in Dallas postseason history.

FIRST TIME...LAST TIME

The first time these two clubs met, the Dallas Cowboys were entering their fourth week of existence. After losing their first three games by an average of seven points, the Cowboys suffered their largest margin of defeat in their inaugural season, falling to Cleveland at home 48-7 on Oct. 16, 1960 in front of 28,500 fans.

The last time these two clubs met, the Cowboys opened up their 2004 home schedule with a 19-12 win over the Browns on Sept. 19 in front of 63,119 fans.

THE NORTH FACE

By virtue of the NFL schedule, the Dallas Cowboys will be facing the AFC North this season. All time, Dallas holds a 31-37 record over teams from the AFC North - the only division in which Dallas does not have a winning record.

THIS WEEK'S PROJECTED STARTERS

OFFENSE

WR -- 81 Terrell Owens

Led his team in receiving yards in each of the last eight seasons. Set a club record with an NFC-best 15 touchdown receptions in 2007. Earned his sixth trip - first as a Cowboy - to the Pro Bowl following the 2007 season. With 1,355 receiving yards topped 1,000 yards for the eighth time in his career. In league history, currently third all-time with 129 receiving touchdowns, ninth with 882 career catches and 10th with 13,070 yards. Has caught a pass in 167 consecutive regular season games - second behind Marvin Harrison's 175.

LT -- 76 Flozell Adams

Played and started all 16 games in each of the last two seasons after returning to the field after suffering a torn ACL in his right knee in 2005. Played in 16 games in each of his 10 seasons, except 2005. Has 146 career starts in 150 games. A four-time Pro Bowl selection (2003-04 and 2006-07). Has seven career blocked kicks.

LG -- 71 Cory Procter

Came to Dallas as a free agent in 2005 as a backup guard. Displayed versatility to also play center. Started two games last season at center in place of Gurode (knee). Starting at guard in place of Kyle Kosier (foot). Has played in 16 games in his career - all in 2007.

C -- 65 Andre Gurode

Took over the starting center role at the beginning of training camp in 2005. Switched to guard midway in 2002. Made the switch back to center in 2005. Missed two games in 2007 due to injury (knee). Following the 2007 season, earned his second consecutive trip to the Pro Bowl.

RG -- 70 Leonard Davis

Signed with Dallas as an unrestricted free agent from Arizona in 2007. Started all 17 games last year and earned his first career trip to the Pro Bowl. Was the second overall pick in the 2001 NFL Draft by the Cardinals.

RT --75 Marc Colombo

Won the starting job during the 2005 training camp. Started all 16 games in 2006 for the first time in his career and repeated that feat in 2007. Has played both right and left tackle in his career. Originally a first-round draft choice (29th overall) with the Chicago Bears in 2002. Suffered nerve damage and a dislocated patella late in the 2002 season and did not return until late in the 2004 season. Signed with Dallas Nov. 1, 2005.

TE -- 82 Jason Witten

Selected to his fourth consecutive Pro Bowl in 2007 - the second-most Pro Bowl selections by a tight end in club history - Jay Novacek (five). Established single-season team tight end records for catches (96 - third-most in league history) and receiving yards (1,145) - the 13th tight end in league history to top 1,000 yards in a season. Became the eighth tight end in league history to record 60-or-more catches in four consecutive seasons.

FB -- 34 Deon Anderson

Drafted in the sixth round (195th overall) of the 2007 NFL Draft. Played in eight games with four starts as a rookie before tearing his right rotator cuff. Caught six passes for 55 yards before the injury. Spent the second half of the season on injured reserve.

WR -- 84 Patrick Crayton

Became a starting receiver in 2007, stepping in for Terry Glenn (knee). Started 13 games in 2007 and had career-highs for catches (50), yards (697) and touchdowns (seven). Had a career-best 184 yards against St. Louis (9/30/07). Also had two touchdowns against the Rams - his first career multi-touchdown game.

QB -- 9 Tony Romo

Earned his second consecutive Pro Bowl trip in 2007 after establishing club records for passing yards (4,211), touchdowns (36), completions (335) and 300-yard games (seven). Also owns the club mark for consecutive games with a touchdown pass (17). Is tied with Danny White for the second-most 300-yard outings (10). Owns a 19-7 regular season record as a starter.

RB -- 24 Marion Barber

Becomes Dallas' starting running back for the first time in his career after earning his first career trip to the Pro Bowl following the 2007 season, despite seeing time as a reserve. Had career-highs for rushes (204) and rushing yards (975) last season.

DEFENSE

RE -- 99 Chris Canty

Moved into the starting lineup in 2006 and started each of the last 34 games, including playoffs. Split time with Greg Ellis at defensive end as a rookie in 2005. Had a career-best 46 tackles and 3.5 sacks last season.

NT -- 90 Jay Ratliff

Drafted in the seventh round in the 2005 draft as a defensive end and was a reserve for two seasons. Switched to nose tackle last season after Jason Ferguson was lost in the season-opener. Started 14 games and finished with a career-best 28 tackles and four tackles for losses.

LE -- 96 Marcus Spears

Drafted in the first round (20th overall) of the 2005 NFL Draft. Played in all 50 games of his career, including starts in the last 34 games - including playoffs. Finished second last season with six tackles for losses.

SLB -- 98 Greg Ellis

Moved to outside linebacker for 2006 after after playing the previous eight at defensive end. Suffered a torn Achilles tendon and missed the last seven games of the season. Returned in 2007 to record a career-best 12.5 sacks, earn his first career trip to the Pro Bowl and was named the NFL's Comeback Player of the Year.

MILB -- 56 Bradie James

Became the starting MLB in 2005 and led the team in tackles in each of the previous three seasons. Had a career-high 132 tackles in 2006. Posted double-digit tackles in seven games led the team or tied for the lead in tackles eight times last season. Returned an interception 15 yards for a touchdown for his first career score in 2006.

MOLB -- 55 Zach Thomas

Signed as a free agent in the offseason after spending the first 12 years of his career in Miami. Named to seven consecutive Pro Bowls (1999-2006) and reached the 100-tackle plateau in each of his first 11 seasons. Has reached double-digit tackle totals in 39 of his last 52 games. Has 17 career interceptions, the fifth-most among active linebackers. Returned four picks for touchdowns - tied for fourth-most all-time.

WLB -- 94 DeMarcus Ware

Earned his second consecutive trip to the Pro Bowl last season after leading the team and all league linebackers with a club linebacker record 14.0 sacks. With his 11.5 sacks in 2006, became the first Dallas defender to post back-to-back double-digit sacks since Charles Haley (1994-95). Is the first Cowboys player to lead the club in sacks through each of his first three seasons.

RCB -- 42 Anthony Henry

Signed with Dallas on March 3, 2005 after four years with the Browns. Started all 16 games in 2006 for the first time in his career. Was slowed in 2007 with a high ankle sprain, but still managed to lead the team with six interceptions. Tied for the team lead with 15 pass breakups.

LCB -- 41 Terence Newman

Earned his first career Pro Bowl selection in 2007 despite missing three games due to injury (foot). Tied his career-best with four interceptions, including one returned for a touchdown - his first career interception return for a touchdown. Did not allow a touchdown reception in 2005.

SS -- 38 Roy Williams

Earned fifth straight Pro Bowl selection in 2007, joining Cliff Harris, Mel Renfro and Darren Woodson as the only club safeties who made five-or-more Pro Bowls. Finished 2007 second on the team with 115 tackles, his third 100-tackle season. Has started 93 of the 95 regular season games he has played.

FS -- 26 Ken Hamlin

Signed with Dallas from Seattle as an unrestricted free agent on March 23, 2007. Earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl in 2007 after posting a career-best 102 tackles. Finished second on the Dallas defense with a career-best five interceptions. Originally selected in the second round (42nd overall) of the 2002 NFL Draft by Seattle. Has started 68 of the 70 regular season games he played, including all 16 games in the previous two seasons.

PERSONNEL BREAKDOWN -- OFFENSE

The Cowboys offense finished the 2007 season third in the NFL in total offense (second in the NFC). In scoring offense, Dallas averaged 28.4 points-per-game to rank second in the league (first in the NFC), and the 455 points amassed by the offense was good for the second-most in club history behind only the 1983 club (479 points). The passing offense ranked fourth in the league (third in the NFC) and for the second consecutive season - and third overall in team history - produced two 1,000-yard receivers (Terrell Owens and Jason Witten). Owens set a franchise record with 15 receiving touchdowns, Witten caught 96 passes to lead the team and set a club tight end record for receptions while also becoming the first tight end in franchise history - 13th in NFL history - to top 1,000 yards in a season. Tony Romo, in his first complete season as the team's starting quarterback, established single-season club records for touchdown passes (36), passing yardage (4,211), completions (335) and 300-yard games (seven) to earn his second consecutive Pro Bowl selection and first as the starting quarterback for the NFC squad. The Cowboys rushing attack finished 17th in the NFL (seventh in the NFC) behind the tandem of Marion Barber and Julius Jones. The duo combined for 1,563 rushing yards and averaged 97.7 yards-per-game in 2007. Barber led the team with 975 yards on 204 carries and 10 touchdowns despite not starting a single game during the regular season as he earned his first career trip to the Pro Bowl. Jones finished second on the team with 588 yards on 164 carries with two touchdowns.

2007 OFFENSIVE HIGHLIGHTS

- * Flozell Adams, Leonard Davis and Andre Gurode were each named Pro Bowl starters for their work on the line. Adams made his fourth appearance, Davis his first and Gurode his second.
- * Marion Barber led Dallas rushers with career-highs for rushes (204) and yards (975) without logging a start during the regular season. With his play, Barber earned his first career Pro Bowl selection.
- * Terrell Owens earned his sixth Pro Bowl appearance after establishing a club record for touchdowns in a season (15). His 1,355 receiving yards were the fourth-most in team history and the most for Owens since recording 1,412 in 2001.
- * Tony Romo established club single-season records for completions (335), passing yards (4,211) and touchdowns (36) to earn his second consecutive Pro Bowl selection. He threw at least one touchdown in the first 13 games of the season - the longest single-season streak in club history.
- * Jason Witten earned his fourth Pro Bowl selection after setting a club tight end record for catches (96) and receiving yards (1,145). Witten's receiving yardage total marked the first time in club history - 13th in league history - that a tight end topped 1,000 yards in a season.

QUARTERBACK

Tony Romo begins his second season as Dallas' starting quarterback, giving the Cowboys stability at that position for the first time since the 1990s. After signing a seven-year contract extension Oct. 10, 2007, the Cowboys offense was rewarded by Romo's emergence last season as the club led the NFC and was second in the league in scoring offense, averaging 28.4 points-per-game. In just his first full season as a starting quarterback, Romo led the Cowboys to a franchise record tying 13 wins while earning himself his second consecutive trip to the Pro Bowl as the NFC's starting quarterback. Along the way, Romo set numerous single-season club passing records, including touchdown passes (36), passing yards (4,211), 300-yard games (seven), and his completion percentage of 64.4% was the sixth-highest single-season mark in club history. He led the NFC in yards-per-attempt (8.10) and was second in the conference in yards and third in completion percentage. Romo has now started 26 regular season games and owns a record of 19-7. Through his career, he has completed 555 of his 857 attempts for 7,114 yards with 55 touchdowns and 32 interceptions. He now has 10 career 300-yard outings which ties Danny White for the second-most in club history behind Troy Aikman's 13.

The Dallas Cowboys called on seasoned veteran Brad Johnson to become the club's backup quarterback in 2007, a position he returns for in 2008. Johnson, a proven quarterback in the league, is also one of the league's most accurate. With a 61.8 career completion percentage, Johnson ranks fifth in the NFL among quarterbacks with over 3,000 attempts. He is tied with Jim Plunkett and Daryle Lamonica for 52nd place on the NFL's all-time passing list (164). As a starter, Johnson has racked up a 71-51 record (.582 winning percentage) and did not throw an interception in 48 of those starts. He holds the league record for consecutive seasons with a completion percentage over 60.0 (11) and has two Pro Bowl selections along with a Super Bowl XXXVII Championship - Tampa Bay (2002). As a starting quarterback, Johnson has led three teams (Minnesota, Tampa Bay and Washington) to the playoffs. In his first season in Dallas, Johnson saw extended action in the season finale at Washington and completed seven-of-11 passes for 79 yards - his only passing statistics of the season.

RUNNING BACK

Marion Barber has displayed an explosive and energetic running style that has provided a spark to the Dallas running game and allowed the fourth-year player to earn his first career trip to the Pro Bowl in 2007 despite spending the season as a reserve. He established career numbers for carries (204) and rushing yards (975) while adding 10 touchdowns in 2007. He returns in 2008 as the most experienced rusher on the Dallas depth chart.

In continuing with the recent trend of a two-running back system, the Cowboys used their first pick in the 2008 draft on a running back that left the collegiate ranks as only the fourth running back in NCAA history to average over 7.0 yards-per-carry. Felix Jones is slated to complement Marion Barber and is no stranger to a two-back system after spending his collegiate career sharing the backfield with Darren McFadden.

Dallas added to its backfield depth once again in the 2008 NFL Draft by selecting Tashard Choice in the fourth round. Choice left Georgia Tech as the first running back in school history to top 1,000 yards in consecutive seasons while also leading the ACC in rushing both years.

Deon Anderson will take over as the club's starting fullback after starting four games and playing in eight as a rookie last season. He is a natural fullback, that was selected in the sixth round (195th overall) of the 2007 NFL Draft. His rookie season was slowed after tearing his right rotator cuff and spending the second half of the season on the club's injured reserve list.

Terrell Owens signed with Dallas prior to the 2006 season and has exceeded expectations since his arrival. He led the team with 1,180 yards in 2006 and bettered that in 2007, recording a team-best 1,355 yards and establishing a club record with 15 receiving touchdowns - tops in the NFC. For his efforts, he was selected to his sixth career Pro Bowl - first as a Cowboy. Through his 12 NFL seasons, Owens has 882 career receptions - ninth all-time - for 13,070 yards - 10th all-time - and 129 touchdowns - third all-time. He has caught a pass in 167 consecutive games, second only to Marvin Harrison (175). Owens is the second player in NFL history to finish seven seasons with 13-or-more touchdowns, joining Jerry Rice, who did it eight times. He has 29 games with multiple touchdown receptions and 45 career 100-yard games.

The versatile Patrick Crayton remains as the club's starting receiver opposite Owens after stepping into the role last season with Terry Glenn sidelined through the first 15 games of the season. Crayton responded to the challenge, starting 13 of the 15 games he played and setting career-highs in receptions (50), yards (697) and touchdowns (seven).

Behind Owens and Crayton, several young receivers will be counted on to make an impact for the Cowboys this season. Sam Hurd and Miles Austin, who both made the club as rookie free agents in 2006 and benefitted from increased playing time last year will start the season as game-day inactives. Hurd suffered a high ankle sprain in the final preseason game while Austin sprained his knee in the pre-season contest at Denver. Working through his first full training camp, second-year receiver Isaiah Stanback showed splashes of comprehending the receiver position after making the transition from college quarterback to pro receiver last year. His progress and playing time may be slowed at the beginning of the 2008 season after he suffered a shoulder injury in the preseason game against Houston.

TIGHT END

At the top of the tight end depth chart lies fifth-year man and four-time Pro Bowler Jason Witten. With his selection to the 2007 Pro Bowl, Witten now trails only Jay Novacek (five) for the most Pro Bowl appearances by a Dallas tight end. Through his five seasons, Witten has emerged as one of the most prolific tight ends in club history. The 2007 season was no exception as Witten established franchise tight end records for catches (96), receiving yards (1,145) and a career-high seven touchdown catches. He became the first Dallas tight end and 13th tight end in league history to top

1,000 receiving yards in a season. He also became just the eighth tight end in NFL history to record four consecutive 60-plus catch seasons. He already has four of Dallas' top-five single-season reception totals and four of the top-six single-season receiving yards totals. He enters the 2008 season just 17 yards shy of becoming the sixth Dallas pass catcher to reach 4,000 career receiving yards. He is also 52 catches shy of becoming the fifth pass catcher to catch at least 400 passes. A model of durability, Witten has appeared in 82 of a possible 83 games, missing just one with a broken jaw in 2003.

After a draft-day trade that sent 2006 second round selection Anthony Fasano to Miami, the Dallas Cowboys showed their dependency on a quality tight end when they selected Martellus Bennett in the second round (61st overall) of the 2008 NFL Draft. Through the preseason, Bennett has displayed his ability as a pass catcher, shedding tackles for 71 yards on six catches. He continues to work on his ability as a quality blocker in order to become a well-rounded tight end in the mold of Witten.

Tony Curtis returns for his third season in Dallas after seeing time in all 16 games as a reserve in 2007. The 2007 season saw Curtis record his first three receptions - all touchdowns - while also proving his worth as a capable run blocker.

OFFENSIVE LINE

As one of the biggest and most powerful offensive lines in the league in 2007, the Dallas Cowboys return all five starters from last year in left tackle Flozell Adams, left guard Kyle Kosier, center Andre Gurode, right guard Leonard Davis and right tackle Marc Colombo. Behind the O-Line's work, the Dallas offense finished second in the NFC, third in the league, averaging 365.7 yards-per-game. The club racked up 455 points, the second-most behind the 1983 squad's 479. The Dallas line was also well represented in the Pro Bowl, sending Adams for his fourth appearance - second consecutive - Gurode for his second consecutive and Davis for his first trip. The line will lose some consistency to start the season after Kosier suffered a foot injury in the Houston game and may be sidelined for several weeks.

With Kosier sidelined with a foot injury suffered in the pre-season game against Houston, Cory Procter - who started two games at center in place of Gurode (knee) last season - will step in to start at left guard.

Pat McQuistan (Dallas' 2006 seventh round selection), along with two of Dallas' 2007 draft picks - James Marten (third round) and Doug Free (fourth) will remain in a reserve role at tackle. All three have the ability to play more than one position and will continue to learn from some of the best this season.

Joe Berger, in his fourth year, will backup both the guard and center positions and Montrae Holland - acquired in a trade with Denver leading up to the season opener - round out the depth on the offensive line.

PERSONNEL BREAKDOWN -- DEFENSE

The Cowboys finished the 2007 season ranked ninth in the NFL (fourth in the NFC) in total defense. Linebacker Bradie James led the team in tackles for the third consecutive season with 130 stops. Safety Roy Williams finished second on the team - first among Dallas defensive backs - with 115 stops, marking his third season with 100-plus tackles while earning his fifth consecutive trip to the Pro Bowl. Cornerback Anthony Henry paced the squad with a team-high six interceptions while also tying fellow cornerback Terence Newman - who earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl in 2007 - with 15 pass breakups. For the second consecutive season, linebacker DeMarcus Ware set a franchise record with a career-best 14.0 sacks - good for second in the league and first among all linebackers - as he earned his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl as a starter on the NFC squad. With 14.0 sacks in 2007 and 11.5 in 2006, Ware became the first Dallas defender to post back-to-back double-digit sack totals since Charles Haley (12.5 in 1994 and 10.5 in 1995). Linebacker Greg Ellis finished second on the team with a career-best 12.5 sacks to earn his first career trip to the Pro Bowl while also being named as the NFL Comeback Player of the Year. With Ellis and Ware both collecting double-digit sacks, they became the first Dallas duo to record 10-or-more sacks each in a season since Ed Jones (13.0) and Jim Jeffcoat (12.0) in 1985.

2007 DEFENSIVE HIGHLIGHTS

- * Greg Ellis returned from a torn Achilles injury suffered in 2006 to record the most sacks in his career - 12.5 - despite missing the first three games of the season. Ellis's impact also led to his first career Pro Bowl appearance.
- * Bradie James led the defense in tackles for the third consecutive season with 130.
- * Anthony Henry led the team with six interceptions, despite missing three games with a high ankle sprain.
- * Terence Newman earned his first career Pro Bowl selection despite being slowed with injuries through the season.
- * DeMarcus Ware led the team in sacks (14.0 - tops among league linebackers), to set a club record by a linebacker. He earned his second consecutive Pro Bowl start also pacing the team in quarterback pressures (27), tackles for lost yardage (eight) and forced fumbles (four).

LINEBACKER

When the Dallas Cowboys transitioned to the 3-4 defense three years ago, Bradie James may have benefited the most from the change. As the signal caller of the defense, James notched 100-plus tackles and led the team in tackles each of the previous three seasons, including a career-high 132 tackles in 2006. He posted 130 stops last year and led or tied for the team lead in tackles eight times.

The only newcomer to Dallas' starting defense this year is 12-year veteran and seven-time Pro Bowler Zach Thomas, who will be starting alongside James at inside linebacker. Thomas came to Dallas this year via free agency from Miami and has reached the 100-tackle mark in each of his first 11 seasons. He also had 168 career starts with the Dolphins, the most ever by a club defensive player and the fourth-most by any player in Miami history.

After nine years at defensive end, Greg Ellis made the switch to strong side linebacker in 2006 and has flourished at the position despite suffering a torn Achilles tendon that sidelined him for the final seven games of the season. Before the injury, Ellis was leading the team with 4.5 sacks. He returned in 2007 and missed the first three games while continuing the rehabilitation process. After his return, he went on to post a career-best 12.5 tackles - second-most by a club linebacker - and earned his first career Pro Bowl selection.

Starting opposite Ellis is Dallas' 2005 first round draft choice DeMarcus Ware. Coming off his second consecutive Pro Bowl season, Ware displayed his pass rushing prowess last season, finishing second in the league - tops among league linebackers - with a single-season club linebacker record 14.0 sacks. With his 11.5 sacks in 2006, Ware became the first Dallas defender to post consecutive double-digit sack seasons since Tony Tolbert accomplished that feat in 1994-95. Ware also led the team in sacks for the third consecutive season to become the first player in club history to lead or tie for the team lead in sacks in each of his first three seasons.

On the inside, 2005 first round selection Bobby Carpenter will see time in reserve packages. He has seen time at both inside and outside spots through his previous two seasons.

Kevin Burnett will also work his way back into the lineup after undergoing arthroscopic surgery during the preseason. Burnett saw time in nickel and dime packages last season and finished eighth on the team with 52 tackles.

Justin Rogers was claimed off waivers at the final cutdown leading up to the 2007 season and saw time in all 16 games last season mainly on special teams. In limited play on defense, Rogers finished with three tackles. He also has the ability to play outside.

The Cowboys first pick in the 2007 NFL Draft, Anthony Spencer, assumed the role with the first team early last season and started the first six games of his career in Ellis' absence.

DEFENSIVE LINE

Both Marcus Spears and Chris Canty return to man the starting defensive end positions after seeing their production increase in the defense last season. Both have started all 16 games in each of their previous two seasons after seeing time as reserves during their rookie season (2005). Spears had a career-high 2.5 sacks last season along with a career-best six tackles for losses (second on the team).

Canty also put up career-highs in 2007 with 46 tackles and 3.5 sacks.

Jay Ratliff resumes the role as the club's starting nose tackle after successfully switching from defensive end last season. With the loss of Jason Ferguson (biceps) in the first week of the season, Ratliff was called upon to clog the middle for the Dallas defense. He responded by starting the next 14 games and finished with career-bests in tackles (28) and tackles for losses (four). With his versatility, Ratliff may also be used as a pass rushing defensive end in reserve packages.

With the loss of Ferguson last season, Dallas signed Tank Johnson to provide experienced depth at nose tackle. Although he spent his first six weeks on the club's reserve/suspended list serving a league-mandated suspension, Johnson saw time in eight games with one start. With a full offseason under his belt, Johnson is now acclimated to the Dallas defense.

Jason Hatcher, a 2006 third round choice, has been a solid contributor along the line last season through his first two pro seasons, seeing action in 30 games. He finished his rookie campaign with 13 stops and seven quarterback pressures, then upped those totals with 35 tackles and nine pressures in 2007.

Third-year man Stephen Bowen will also help to provide depth on the line after seeing time in all 16 games last season, posting 23 tackles. He played in just one game with Dallas as a rookie free agent in 2006.

SECONDARY

Dallas will start the season off with both of their starting cornerbacks on the field, a rare occurrence from 2007. Terence Newman, who suffered through a heel injury the beginning of last season, returns healthy after earning his first career Pro Bowl selection following the 2007 season. Despite playing in only 13 games, Newman tied his career-high with four interceptions, including one he returned for a touchdown for his first career defensive score.

Anthony Henry will start opposite Newman in his fourth season in Dallas. Despite suffering a high ankle sprain against St. Louis (9/30) last season, Henry still managed to lead the defense with six interceptions in 13 games.

The Cowboys nickel defensive package will highlight Dallas newcomer Adam Jones, who was acquired in a draft day trade with the Tennessee Titans. Jones, who served a league-mandated suspension for off-field issues last season, missed the entire 2007 season, but was fully reinstated by Commissioner Goodell Aug. 28. He arrived in Dallas as a former first round selection (sixth overall) in the 2005 NFL Draft. He not only has displayed his ability as a cover corner, but is also a game-breaking punt returner, with four returns for touchdowns.

The Cowboys also addressed their need at cornerback in the 2008 NFL Draft. With their second pick in the first round (25th overall), the Cowboys selected Mike Jenkins. He displayed his ability to make plays on defense, racking up 133 tackles, 41 pass breakups and six interceptions in four years at South Florida.

Dallas picked up another corner in the draft, selecting Orlando Scandrick in the fifth round (143rd overall). He not only has the ability to make plays on defense, but can be a solid special teams contributor after blocking seven kicks through his collegiate career.

Last season the Cowboys claimed Evan Oglesby off waivers (Baltimore) to add young depth in the secondary. Oglesby played in eight games, mainly on special teams, in 2007 and will once again be counted on to provide support in a reserve role.

Alan Ball was drafted in the seventh round (237th overall) of the 2007 NFL Draft to give Dallas added depth and youth in the secondary. He spent most of his rookie season adjusting to the pro game on Dallas' practice squad but was activated for the final three games of the season.

Roy Williams returns to strong safety in 2008 after earning his fifth straight Pro Bowl selection. He will once again be counted on to do what he does best - hit. In 2007 Williams finished the season second on the team with his third career 100-tackle performance. He product of durability, he has played in 95-of-96 possible career games, missing only one game due to a suspension for a horse-collar tackle.

Ken Hamlin will once again quarterback the secondary from his free safety spot. He joined Dallas in free agency leading up to the 2007 season and had a career-year, establishing personal highs in tackles (102) and interceptions (five) en route to his first career Pro Bowl selection. Hamlin's future in Dallas was solidified this past offseason as he signed a six-year contract.

Behind Hamlin, is third-year safety Patrick Watkins who will continue to see time in nickel and dime packages. He was thrown into the mix early in his rookie season, starting nine of the 14 games he played in.

Courtney Brown, one of Dallas' 2007 seventh round draft choices, will continue to battle for playing time after moving from corner to safety at the start of the 2007 training camp.

PERSONNEL BREAKDOWN -- SPECIAL TEAMS

The Dallas Cowboys finished the 2007 season 20th in the NFL (10th in the NFC) in kickoff coverage, allowing an average of 23.0 yards-per-return. Dallas was 29th in the NFL (14th in the NFC) in punt coverage with an average of 11.6 yards allowed. On the return side, the Cowboys ranked 19th in the NFL (10th in the NFC) in kickoff returns with an average of 22.3 yards-per-return. Dallas was 17th in the NFL in punt return average (8.7). Kicker Nick Folk racked up 131 points to finish third in the league and a top club record charts for scoring in a season by a rookie. He also became the first Cowboys rookie since Emmitt Smith (1990) to earn a trip to the Pro Bowl. He joined Efen Herrera (1977) and Rafael Septien (1981) as the only club kickers to make the trip to Hawaii.

2007 SPECIAL TEAMS HIGHLIGHTS

- * Nick Folk had a record-setting season, finishing with a club rookie record 131 points - also good for the third-most overall. He converted all 53 of his PAT attempts while drilling 26-of-31 (83.9% - club rookie record) of his field goal attempts. His 26 field goals also set a club rookie record. Folk was the NFC's kicker in the Pro Bowl.
- * Mat McBriar had a gross average of 47.1 yards - fourth in the NFL. His net average of 38.5 was seventh best in the NFL.
- * Miles Austin took over the kickoff return duties midway through the season and finished ninth in the NFL with an average of 25.5.

KICKING GAME

Punter Mat McBriar has become one of the NFL's premier punters in just four seasons and holds six of the club's top-10 single-game highs for gross average, the top-two spots for single-season gross average and the second-best single-game net average. He finished 2007 fourth in the league with a 47.1 gross and seventh with a 38.5 net average. Just one year removed from a Pro Bowl, McBriar also has a streak of 275 consecutive punts without a block - second in team record books behind Danny White's 341. For his career, he averages a booming 44.7 gross average with 89 dropped inside opponents' 20-yard line.

The Cowboys may have found the permanent solution at place kicker - a position that has given the club trouble recently. Nick Folk, one of Dallas' sixth round choices in the 2007 NFL Draft, will once again handle the place kicking duties after becoming the first Cowboys rookie to be selected to the Pro Bowl since Emmitt Smith (1990), and the third-ever Dallas kicker (first rookie kicker) to make the all-star trip. He finished his rookie season fourth among kickers with 131 points to establish a club rookie scoring record. He converted all 53 PATs and was true on 26-of-31 field goals.

Deep snapper Louis-Philippe Ladouceur signed with Dallas prior to their Week Four contest at Oakland in 2005 and has been solid and mistake-free on 196 punts, 86 field goals and 122 PATs since joining the team.

RETURN GAME

With preseason injuries to Miles Austin (knee) and Isaiah Stanback (shoulder)- both of whom were slotted as kickoff returns - the Dallas return game will take on a new look. Dallas first round draft picks Felix Jones and Mike Jenkins will see some time returning kicks. Jones is back in familiar territory as he handled kickoff returns at Arkansas, leaving the collegiate ranks as the NCAA's ninth-ranked returner with a career average of 28.2 yards-per-return. Jenkins also excelled in his senior campaign as a kick return specialist, averaging 30.4 yards with his first return of the season going for a 100-yard touchdown.

Both Terence Newman and Patrick Crayton may see time returning punts, but the full time role will be handled by Adam Jones. Jones, an explosive punt returner while with the Tennessee Titans, has a career average of 11.2 yards-per-return. In the 2006 season, Jones averaged 12.9 yards-per-return with three returns for a touchdown, including a 90-yarder.

COVERAGE UNITS

Dallas finished the 2007 season 20th in the NFL in kickoff coverage, allowing 23.0 yards-per-return. Leading up to the season, The Cowboys return eight of their top-10 special teams coverage specialists from last season: Patrick Watkins - who led the team - Bobby Carpenter, Kevin Burnett, Justin Rogers - who led all rookie coverage men - Sam Hurd, Anthony Spencer, Miles Austin and Deon Anderson.
